11 January 1990

Tena Koutou Katoa,

This year Aotearoa is recognising 150 years of colonialism, for some people it is regarded as progress, for others however, it is quite the opposite.

Regardless of how each individual assesses the last 150 years of history in Aotearoa, we are all obligated to our children and their children in 1990, one hundred and fifty years after the signing of the treaty, to shape a new future for Aotearoa and indeed to make concentrated efforts to assure a future for our planet.

Kaitiaki O Manukau the pilot Environment/Employment alternative is about people politics as opposed to party politics. The Kaitiaki concept is about a new future, a new direction.

The health of all our people's and the health of our planet. With that in mind and the development of peoples democracy overseas, we have formulated the attached questionnaire which we intend to circulate to as wide as possible in an attempt to gauge the depth of support the Kaitiaki concept has in the broad community.

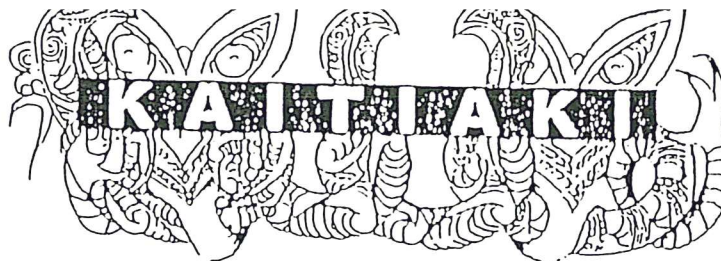

In putting these Questions to you, we seek a response to some important questions that need to be addressed in 1990. Although the Questions appear to be contentious they are direct and honest and we view them as being indicators towards the future direction of Politics in Aotearoa.

Yours faithfully,
